A defensive false card

Marcus Dudley found a nice play to use declarer's entry to hand before he wanted to use it on the following deal:

E/W Vul	♠ T52
Dlr: South	♥ AKT72
	♦ AK2
	♣ KQ
♠ A63		Marcus
♥ Q864		♠ KJ987
♦ 9654		♥ J
♣ 63		♦ 8

	♠ Q4
	♥ 953
	♦ QJT73
	♣ T95

South	West	North	East
2D	Pass	2H	3S
Pass	Pass	4D	All Pass

South was clearly inspired by the advice of Sartaj Hans: When the vulnerability is favourable, be the joker! In this context, 2D is not the poor bid that it would be at other vulnerabilities.

West cashed the SA and continued with a spade to the SK, dropping declarer's SQ. Leading a third spade is futile when South has a normal 6 card diamond suit.

But Marcus was also listening to Sartaj's talk. Realising that declarer could easily have a 5 card trump suit (despite missing the top 2 cards that are visible in dummy), Marcus cashed the CA and continued with a third round of spades, making it look like he had 6 spades (completing the picture he started painting in the auction).

Declarer high ruffed, which didn't cost a trick on this layout, but it could have if declarer's diamond suit was less robust. Declarer drew trumps, ending in hand, but now after cashing the HA, he had no (spade ruff) entry back to hand to finesse hearts.

Eagle-eyed readers may have noticed that declarer could cash the DA, DK and HA before completing the operation of drawing trumps. This is true. But if you consistently make life difficult for your opponents they will slip up every now and then.

Special guest

Fresh from his win in the Soloway Teams, Sartaj Hans gave two interactive talks. One about getting into the right headspace to play bridge and another talk about how you should think about vulnerability at the bridge table.

Thanks Sartaj for a very inciteful and engaging lesson. I've already seen youth players putting your advice into practice.

Limping In

The Youth Teams featured one of the longest auctions we've seen in a while:

Good thing the table is wide enough!

A note to everyone intending to contest the Australian Junior Team selection: To be eligible to play in the Butler, you will need to fill in an eligibility criteria form, and declare yourself eligible and intending to represent Australia if successful, in accordance with the ABF regulations:

Interview with Matthew Sieredzinski

"Where are you from?"

M: Melbourne. I lived in Thailand for 7 years from about 2012-2019.

"What do you do for study/work?"

M: I graduated and am doing an internship in IT. It's mostly programming.

"How long have you been playing bridge?"

M: I probably started like back in 2015-2016, or maybe earlier. 2019 is when I started playing with my dad and I joined the youth field in 2023.

"What is your favourite thing about bridge?"

M: Mainly the solving aspect. Trying to figure out what to do. And like the funny situations with the auctions that come up.

"Scissors, Paper, Rock."

Both: "scissors, paper, rock"

*I show rock

*Matthew shows scissors

"Why did you go scissors?"

M: I didn't have a reason, I just showed a random one. It's late. Apparently you're meant to do scissors against a male, as guys tend to do rock more often.

"Do you have a favourite bridge hand or type of play?"

Mostly like a weird moment. Back in 2024 youth week teams playing with Heath against Damo and Mitch. Heath passed and in my mind, I had committed to bidding 2H no matter what... and then East opens 1S. I have 1098xx solid hearts and think, ok 3H then. I had a 5-5 shape. I like forgot that Michaels cue bid exists or something. I had like a 3 count. The auction continues:

Me	Damo	Heath	Mitch
		Pass	1S
3H	3S	Pass	4C
Pass	4D	Pass	4NT
Pass	5D	Dble	Redouble
Pass	Pass	Pass

Heath doubled 5D, lead directing. Mitch redoubled showing the ace. Damo said it was "undiscussed, but I think it's blood".

Matthew Sieredzinski

Anyway this went 3 down for +1000.

At the other table they made the Michaels Cue bid and ended up in 5CX going for 2000. So we scored 22 Imps on the board. We won the match by less than this margin.

"Any significant achievements in your life?"

I was on the 2024 Youth ANC Team. Victoria came second but my partner and I came first on datums. Heath and I also won the Butler last year and qualified to the Australian Youth Team. They're the two things I'm most proud of.

"What was it like?"

M: Playing in the Worlds in Salso was great. I got to meet some people from other countries. There were some hands that I wasn't proud of, but other hands that I was really happy with. So not a total loss. I also got chatting to some of the people on the Thai team and they were really surprised that I could speak their language.

Opening Lead Quiz

by Leigh Matheson

Today's lead problem hand comes from this board from round 5 of the Teams event.

E/W Vul      ♠ KJ92
Dlr: South    ♥ 83

♦ QT7
♣ AK63

♠ QT3

♥ T65

♦ A93

♣ QJ52

♠ 8654

♥ KQ4

♦ J864

♣ 97

♠ A7

♥ AJ972

♦ K52

♣ T84

South	West	North	East
1H	Pass	1S	Pass
1NT	Pass	3NT	All Pass

West has an unenviable decision with no suit looking particularly appealing. If we want an active lead, best is a spade, hoping to find partner with a 5 card suit headed by something useful. If we want to lead passively, a diamond is least likely to cost a trick.

At the table I led the D3. Let's see what the simulation results have to say about this:

Lead card	% defeat	Ave tricks	Score
D3	24.56%	3.37	10
C2	22.48%	3.30	8
H5	18.34%	3.17	4
S3	14.56%	3.01	0

As is often the case, the simulation shows that it's quite bad to lead either declarer or dummy's bid suit. When considering between the minors, our diamond holding is far less likely to give away a trick. The actual deal is an excellent example, showing one layout where leading the suit gives the declarer all the tricks. If declarer had no help there would be an inescapable club loser.

Under-25 Junior Team Selection Format (unchanged from last year):

After 3 days of the Australian Junior Butler, the top pair will automatically qualify for the Australian Junior Team. The next 4 pairs will contest Stage 2A on Saturday 17th. At the end of Saturday, the top pair will join the Australian Junior Team and the bottom pair will be eliminated. On Sunday 18th the final two remaining pairs will fight it out in Stage 2B for the final spot on the Australian Junior Team.

A note to everyone intending to contest the Australian Junior Team selection: To be eligible to play in the Butler, both you and your partner are required to play together as a partnership for both days of the Youth Teams event.
